Dear Friend:

Welcome to the Golden Spike Centennial Celebration!

We're glad you could join us for this 100th anniversary party commemorating one of the great events in American history, the joining of East and West by rail.

It's really two parties in one. We're marking both the completion of one century of progress and the start of another for the railroad industry.

With the cooperation of the wonderful people of Utah -- and others up and down the line -- we've arranged a varied program in honor of the occasion.

All the members of the Commission join me in hoping you'll attend as many of these events as possible and that you'll enjoy every minute of the Golden Spike Celebration -- and of your visit to Utah.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Goodfellow
